

Beware Mr. Officer, Tread Carefully

Chapter 31 To 35

---

Chapter 31: I Want to See Her Drown in Hate Comments!

Jian Qi lifted her leg and kicked at the first person. Her movements were clean, quick, and precise, and when the kick landed, she held back a little. The martial artist reacted well to it even though it still somewhat hurt, and so the entire scene looked realistic!

Jian Qi's movements were fluid, and it looked like a piece of cake for her to defeat everyone. The martial arts director, who was standing beside, was shocked that she understood so quickly.

He only gave her some advice, and she was able to do so well?

To everyone, the scene that Jian Qi was shooting looked like a real fighting scene without any signs of acting.

That cold aura, and every kick, hit and flip... Each one of her movements burst with pheromones as she resolved the trouble without much trouble like a general faced with ordinary soldiers.

Two of the martial artists got up from the ground and looked at each other in confirmation before they attacked Jian Qi.

One of them punched her with no mercy.

As Jian Qi retreated, another one grabbed a nearby stool and swung it in her direction.

Jian Qi dodged the stool, and it hit a nearby fence, breaking the fence as it hit it, but the stool was unharmed.

Jian Qi knew something was wrong!

The chairs and stools on set were all supposed to be specially processed to break and shatter upon the slightest impact, but this stool didn't even break even when it was bashed into the fence with enough impact to break it.

It was apparent that this stool wasn't processed!

The two actors were shocked that Jian Qi reacted quickly enough to dodge their simultaneous attacks.

The two of them glanced at Ren Ranran, who was watching behind the camera, and she was giving them a disappointed stare as if she was blaming them for not doing their job right.

Jian Qi, who was already confused by why the martial artists were attacking her seriously, caught this quick exchange of glances.

She scoffed inwardly. That woman wanted to beat her up on set!

As the two resumed their attack, Jian Qi's gaze became filled with malice, her aura becoming bloodthirsty and dark.

She lifted her legs and flipped around, kicking one of the martial artists hard enough to send him flying.

www.onlinefreenovels.com

She didn't hold back anymore and exuded the aura of an assassin that had been in the shadows for all her life.

This bloodthirsty and dark aura was as if it was etched into her bones!

Before the other martial artist could react, she kicked at him and sent him skidding over the floor, finally stopping in front of Ren Ranran.

Ren Ranran's devious expression crumpled. Jian Qi was giving her a warning!

The two martial artists pressed their hands over the place they were hit by Jian Qi, hissing in pain.

Evidently, they didn't expect her to be so strong.

They couldn't even hurt a hair on her!

"Cut!" After the last person was beaten up, the directors shouted. "Pass!"

A pass in one take again—no one could find any fault in her acting!

Even though the two of them were hurt, but no one was any wiser. Everyone in the crew only thought that the martial artists performed well and fell realistically!

“Prepare for the next scene!” the director shouted in satisfaction.

A lot of people were waiting to see a joke, but her performance was impeccable!

Ren Ranran glared at Jian Qi in contempt.

Those two useless buffoons couldn't even deal with a girl!

Tang Jinyu stood at one side and came back just as Jian Qi started shooting the fighting scene.

At this moment, his expression grew darker upon seeing her performance.

This woman was completely different from what he had been told based on the information Feng Yi had given him!

It seemed that rumors could truly not be trusted!

In the upcoming shoot, Jian Qi also passed in one go. She nailed every act that she did, from reluctance to send away the protagonist, or the relief when she found out he was safe, or even the hope to meet him again.

Returning to the Divine Beauty Club, she killed all the people that chased down the protagonists in cold blood, and this cruelty and decisiveness made a chill run down everyone's spines.

She portrayed the sharp contrast between the two sides of the character perfectly.

“Cut, pass!” the director shouted.

Everyone's gaze on her changed. After all, just from those two shoots, they've all completely changed their impression of her being just a pretty face!

Ren Ranran frowned as she felt threatened by Jian Qi, turning around and saying to her manager, "I want to see her drown in hate comments!"

The manager nodded. "I've already talked about it with reporters."

Chapter 32: I'm a Thirteenth-Grade Actor?

The assistant that Coco asked to look after Jian Qi looked at her in admiration. "Ms. Jian, if Mr. Coco saw your performance, he would be overjoyed!"

Seeing the cute assistant, Jian Qi smiled. "Who knows, he might be frightened!"

After all, only in these few days, she felt that Coco could become bald from stress due to her changes.

The assistant was stunned by her smile.

When they finished with their scenes, it was almost two in the early morning.

"How unlucky," grumbled the assistant.

Jian Qi smiled nonchalantly.

Just then, a car stopped in front, and the car window rolled down to reveal Tang Jinyu's handsome face with his trademark cold expression.

"Ms. Tang, Mr. Qiao has said to let you in the car to go back to the hotel together!"

The assistant gave her an excited glance as if she were telling her to get on and not to let Acting Emperor Qiao's request go to waste.

"Alright!"

Getting in the car, the assistant quickly thanked Qiao Bo.

Qiao Bo reacted so coldly that the assistant, who was a cheerful girl, stopped talking.

Jian Qi was so tired she went to sleep right there, leaning back on the back seat.

The assistant facepalmed at how Jian Qi made herself at home.

While she was sitting there nervously, Jian Qi was already off to slumberland.

The inside of the car was quiet, and Qiao Bo scrolled his phone for a bit before nodding off too.

Tang Jinyu observed Jian Qi in the rear mirror, and seeing her so quiet like this, it was honestly the best she had ever looked to him.

Arriving at the hotel, they went up to the floor they were temporarily staying on.

The thirteenth floor was for the actors, and the fourteenth floor was for the crew members.

It was a peaceful night, and because Jian Qi didn't have any scenes to shoot in the morning, she had planned to sleep until the afternoon. That was the plan, but Coco came knocking at seven in the morning.

Jian Qi stared sleepily at Coco, who was standing at the door. "So early?"

Coco herded her inside and closed the door behind him.

"Jian Qiqi, did you forget my advice yesterday? I only left for a few hours, and you go pull this off!" Coco glared at her, hands on his hips.

Jian Qi lay on the sofa as she hugged a cushion, her eyes half-lidded. "What did I do?"

"Then tell me what this is?" Coco took out an iPad and tossed it to her after finding the page he was looking for.

"Thirteenth-grade actor Jian Qi beat up newbies on set and kicked crew members."

"Jian Qi hooked up with Acting Emperor Qiao to get famous?!"

"Jian Qi bullies fellow crew members."

Jian Qi read the headlines out loud

She had only been on set for one day and people already had so much dirt on her.

“I’m thirteenth grade?” Jian Qi looked at Coco, who was still glaring at her.

“I thought I was at least a fourth-grade actor.”

Chapter 33: That Pretty Boy Assistant is Your Type?

“Is this the right time to talk about this?” Coco gritted his teeth. “How did you get into so much trouble? What happened last night after I left the set?”

As a third, no, thirteenth-grade actor, Jian Qi wouldn’t have been able to get into the headlines even if she tried to. It was the news that she was trying to hook up with Qiao Bo that sent her there.

No one was defending her, and they were all throwing hate comments at her!

After all, it involved the country’s idol Qiao Bo!

Yesterday night, she had found the paparazzi that was hiding outside the hotel, but she simply thought that it was normal. But she didn’t expect that they would spin such a tall tale from the pictures they took!

Coco saw her checking out the comments and snatched the iPad away. “Don’t look. It’s all hate comments. I don’t want you to get hurt.”

Jian Qi quirked an eyebrow. Her, get hurt?

“Right now, tell me everything. I’ll get it resolved for you!” Coco said, taking responsibility as her manager.

“Later when we go to the set, I’ll have Qiao Bo publish a Weibo post to explain it for me.” Jian Qi didn’t put it on her mind.

Coco paused. “Since when were you so close with Acting Emperor Qiao? Is your relationship really like that?”

“Qiao Bo isn’t my type, don’t worry.”

“Heh, so are you saying that that pretty boy assistant is your type?”

“Pretty boy?” Jian Qi laughed. If that man knew how Coco was describing him, would he want to beat him up?

Seeing Jian Qi smile, Coco sighed in exasperation.

What was she so happy for?! It seemed like it was true...

“Now that we have a way to solve this problem, I’ll go back to sleep.”

Jian Qi sat up and wanted to go back to her bed, but Coco pulled her. “Come back, how could you sleep like this?!”

Jian Qi was about to speak when Coco’s phone rang.

Coco accepted the call.

“Hello?”

“Coco, look at the news. Ren Ranran is blabbering in front of the press, and now everyone is angry at Jian Qi. The higher-ups are having a meeting to discuss whether she should apologize!”

www.onlinefreenovels.com

It was Coco’s assistant.

Hearing so, Coco quickly checked the trending tab and the topmost trending phrase was #Ren Ran gets bullied by Jian Qi#

Before this, there were pictures released with captions saying that Jian Qi had bullied Ren Ranran in the makeup room and pushed her down to the floor. It was Ren Ranran who had fallen on her own, but they found a way to frame the pictures so it looked as if Jian Qi had done it.

Now, Ren Ranran was still crying in front of the press and complaining that she was bullied for being a rookie.

When the reporters asked if it was Jian Qi, she merely cried and didn’t deny nor confirm the question, as if she was scared.

And so the hate comments flooded in again.

Some even wanted her to retire.

“F*ck, this Ren Ranran is too outrageous! She was the one who belittled you and sprayed perfume in your face. She was the one looking for trouble, but now she’s pushing all the blame onto you?”

Even if he was experienced, Coco couldn’t help but curse.

Jian Qi watched the press conference with a smile. “She would’ve become famous if she acted so well on set!”

Coco was about to comfort her before another phone call came in.

He stared at the screen for a while, unsure whether to accept the call.

“Your phone is ringing.”

Coco looked at her before accepting the call and putting the phone to his ear. “Hello...”

“Coco, bring Jian Qi over here now. We’re going to have her hold a press conference to apologize for the events from earlier.”

“She didn’t do anything wrong. Why should she apologize?” Coco furrowed his brows.

“She didn’t do anything wrong? Where’s your evidence? If you don’t have any evidence, then get your *sses here to do some damage control!”

Chapter 34: Let’s Discuss

The person on the other side of the phone hung up immediately, and Coco received a message with an address.

Holding his phone tight, Coco pursed his lips, unsure how to break the news to Jian Qi.

He had always protected Jian Qi precisely because the industry was extremely complicated and the waters were deep, and so he always wanted to prevent her from getting hurt.

He had always done an excellent job, but he never expected this day to come regardless.

“What is it?” Jian Qi looked at him with a mischievous smile. “Look at you. Did they bully you? Do you want me to deal with them for you?”

Jian Qi rolled up her sleeves to reveal her thin arms.

She sounded like she was joking, but there was a hint of truth to her words!

Coco breathed deeply. “The company wants you to apologize for what happened yesterday.

Jian Qi quirked an eyebrow. “Shouldn’t the company get lawyers on the case to stop all these keyboard warriors from writing slander about me? Why do they want me to apologize?”

Coco’s brows knit together. “It’s because the video where you looked like you were bullying Ren Ranran got leaked onto the internet, and because we don’t have any videos or evidence that say otherwise, you would have to retire from the industry just like you wanted! I think the person supporting Ren Ranran is behind this too!”

Seeing Coco knit his brows, Jian Qi scoffed. “Even though I want to retire, I want it to be a glorious retirement and not this farce!”

Coco looked at her smile and somehow felt a hint of malice.

“Help me contact Ren Ranran,” said Jian Qi as she left for the bathroom, her cold voice laced with a danger that was hard to notice. “Let’s discuss.”

Coco only stared at her silhouette, feeling her determination.

Even though he didn’t know what she wanted to do, he trusted her.

***

Ren Ranran appeared at the restaurant dressed in a miniskirt, a pair of seven inch high heels, and sunglasses. She swayed her hips as she walked over arrogantly towards Jian Qi, who was sitting in a corner.

Pulling out the chair and taking a seat, Ren Ranran said in a mocking tone. "What do you want? My time is precious, and I have schedules to get to later, unlike a certain someone."

Jian Qi leaned back on the chair and looked at her. "Did you leak that gossip on the internet?"

Ren Ranran's eyes flashed with panic before she regained her composure.

She never thought that Jian Qi would know it was her!

"I don't know what you're talking about! Don't try to frame me!" she frowned and exclaimed.

But it seemed that Jian Qi wasn't that interested in that topic.

She only smiled teasingly and tilted her head. "I don't care whether it was you, I just need you to do one thing—apologize!"

"What?" Ren Ranran was shocked. "Do you know what you're saying?"

"Everyone knows the truth behind the video you sent about me 'bullying' you, so why act innocent? If you apologize now, I can still forgive you, but if you don't, I won't be responsible for what comes next!"

She said these words with a smile, but her tone was threatening and cold.

"Who do you think you are?" Ren Ranran asked arrogantly. "I'm not afraid of you, Jian Qi. You'll disappear from the industry quickly enough. Let's see how your little manager can protect you then!"

Chapter 35: Personally Destroy You?

"Are you sure?" Jian Qi smiled dangerously and exuded a dangerous aura.

Ren Ranran didn't think that Jian Qi had any cards up her sleeve. She thought the latter was simply bluffing!

"Lemme show you something," Jian Qi smiled innocently.

Ren Ranran didn't care what she had to show her.

“Jian Qi, don’t waste your time. I hear that your company has set up a press conference for you to apologize. Stop struggling and don’t worry, I’ll accept your apology-”

Ren Ranran’s words froze in her throat as she saw the picture Jian Qi was showing her.

“What is that?” The image was blurry, but she could still make out what the two people in the picture were doing.

“Who knows...” Jian Qi said casually as she found a voice recording from her phone.

“Ah...Slower...”A familiar voice came out of the speakers.

“Ranran...” grunted a man breathlessly.

Jian Qi pressed the pause button.

Seeing Ren Ranran’s expression, Jian Qi kept her phone away in satisfaction.

“Ren Ranran, you have five minutes to compose your words. If I don’t see anything I like in five minutes, this recording will storm the internet!”

Jian Qi smiled and drank her juice as if she hadn’t just threatened the woman in front of her.

The invisible pressure almost suffocated Ren Ranran.

Ren Ranran’s hands were gripped into fists, and her expression twisted in anger as her voice deepened. “Jian Qi, delete this!”

“Are you...threatening me right now?” Jian Qi stirred her drink as she smiled. “Friendly advice, you only have four minutes left!”

Ren Ranran grit her teeth. She knew what was more important after being in the industry for so long.

If this recording was released, her reputation would be ruined!

Taking out her phone, Ren Ranran opened Weibo and quickly composed and sent a post out.

“There, I did it. Are you going to delete the recording now?”

Ren Ranran was anxious.

Jian Qi only switched on her phone and saw the Weibo post that Ren Ranran had sent and smiled. “Very good.”

Then, she deleted the recording on her phone.

At this moment, Ren Ranran’s phone rang, and it was her manager calling. Ren Ranran didn’t even have to guess why she called.

She glared at Jian Qi. “You better not tell anyone about this!”

“Depends on you!” Jian Qi smiled brightly, her beautiful smile dazzling.

Ren Ranran wanted to rip her face off, but there was nothing she could do.

She put on her glasses and got up from the table, wanting to leave.

“Wait, I’m not finished yet!”

“What do you want? I already apologized!” Ren Ranran asked coldly.

Jian Qi looked at her meaningfully. “You hired those two martial artists, didn’t you?”

“I don’t know what you’re talking about.”

Jian Qi didn’t want to continue with this conversation, and so she commanded: “You have half an hour for them to apologize to me!”

“I already said that I don’t know...”

“If I don’t see results in half an hour, you’re taking responsibility for what happens next. If you don’t believe me, we can gamble on whether I can really destroy you?”

Ren Ranran breathed deeply and stomped away.

Jian Qi smiled. This industry was messy!

